

DEREK PARKER
Special Agent
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Hailing from a multi-generational military family, SA Parker joined the FBI in 1997, where he was originally assigned to the New York Field Office. SA Parker attended Colorado State University on a merit-based ROTC scholarship where he earned an undergraduate degree in Military Science. He later went on to complete his Army Ranger training and join the 75th Ranger Regiment in Fort Benning, GA. As a Ranger, Parker earned the final rank of captain before returning to civilian life. He later applied his Special Forces skills to become an active member of SWAT, first in the New York Field Office and later in the Cleveland Field Office.

Having returned to the New York Field Office, SA Parker now serves on Enhanced SWAT. With extensive experience in all areas of Violent Crime, including bank robbery, murder for hire, and gangs, he is currently assigned to the Asian Criminal Enterprise Task Force.

SA Parker lives in Manhattan, which he considers to be his home.
